PURE RELIGION, UNTARNISHED DEMOCRACY AND GOOD GOVERNMENT.

From "The Land of Now."

TWENTY FIRST YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1910.

NUMBER 21.

Great Democratic Victory.

New York; John A. Dix, Democrat, elected Governor by plurality of about 68,000.

New Jersey; Dr Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, elected Governor by 10,000 or more.

Massachusetts; Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, elected Governor by about 30,000 plurality.

Connecticut; Simeon E. Baldwin, Democrat, elected Governor by about 2,500 plurality.

Ohio; Judson Harmon, Democrat, elected Governor by about 60,000 plurality.

Indiana; Democratic Gains all over the State and Legislature claimed, which, if true, means defeat of Beveridge.

Democratic Majority Increased Every Where Except Tennessee.

Indications are that Democrats are Ahead in Congress by From 35 to 40 Seats.

DEMOCRATS SHOW SURPRISING GAINS THROUGHOUT STATE

Capture Nine Out of the Eleven Congressional Districts With Increased Majorities.

Helm Wins Easy by a Majority of About 2,700.

Nunn, Settle, Miller and Lassing, Democrats, Win In Appellate Court Contest.

Democrats scored sweeping victories all over Kentucky at Tuesday's election and many rock-ribbed Republican counties either tumbled out of the g. o. p. column or the majorities were greatly reduced. The Democratic gains were not confined to any one section, but a democratic atmosphere pervaded the whole length and breadth of the "Old Kentucky Home."

The net result of the election was nine Democratic Congressmen out of eleven, and the election of all four of the Democratic candidates for the Court of Appeals.

Fields Defeats Bennett.

After the battle of ballots it was shown that the Democrats had made a gain of one Congressman, W. J. Fields, in the Ninth district, who made a remarkable race against Congressman J. B. Bennett, his Republican opponent.

In the First district Congressman Ollie M. James, Democrat, was re-elected by an old-time majority, his only opponent being a socialist.

The Second district by an increased majority, returned to Congress A. O. Stanley, of Henderson, over Salmon, Republican.

One of the surprising races was that made by Congressman R. Y. Thomas, Jr., in the Third district, who defeated W. H. Jones, his Republican opponent, by 1,324 majority.

Johnson Wins Great Race.

The most remarkable race ran in the State was made by Congressman Ben Johnson, in the Fourth district, who carried every county against Dr. Gadde, Republican, receiving an unprecedented majority of over 6,000.

In the Fifth district Congressman Swager Sherley, Democrat, goes back to Congress, having defeated his Republican opponent, Judge Wheeler McGee, by a majority of nearly 4,000.

A. B. Rouse, Democrat, easily defeated C. W. Nagel, Republican, in the sixth district.

The Seventh district, after one of the hardest fights in the State, returns to Congress J. Campbell Cantrell, Democrat, by about 3,000 majority over M. C. Rankin, Republican.

Helm Wins.

The Hon. Harvey Helm again makes

INDIANA.

The Hoosier State made a good record and Sen. Beveridge will have to retire. The democrats will control the Legislature by a good fat majority, probably twenty or thirty seats.

NEBRASKA.

It looks like a republican Governor for the good old state of Nebraska, however we could not expect anything else when Dahlgren ran with the whiskey people and W. J. Bryan opposed him for it. If Dahlgren had stuck to principle and to Mr. Bryan, he would have been elected by a large majority over republican Aldrich.

NEW JERSEY.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson is Governor of New Jersey. This good news is ringing in the ears of all good democrats. He was elected by a majority of about 15000 over his republican opponent, Vivian M. Lewis. The good work is going on every where and it looks like the people are disgusted with Teddy, Taft and the whole bunch and are determined to have every thing Democratic from now on.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

Congress changes its face and will be democratic by probably 35 votes. The democrats gain in almost every state. In New York, they gain seven republican seats. In Maryland, Massachusetts and North Carolina the republicans each lost two seats. Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio and Missouri and several other States show a loss for the republicans. We are sure to have a democratic President next trip so let the democrats be careful and not make mistake.

TENNESSEE.

Captain B. W. Hooper the republican candidate for Governor of Tennessee, who was supported by the independent democrats and friends of the late Senator Carmack was elected Governor of Tennessee over Gov. Bob Taylor by a majority of about 15,000.

This is the first time Tennessee has had a republican Governor in twenty years and it was brought about by the Carmack tragedy and because Gov. Patterson pardoned Duncan B. Cooper who was convicted of the murder of Senator E. W. Carmack one of the smartest and best men that Tennessee has ever known.

NEW YORK.

John A. Dix, a business man and the first democratic nominee elected in sixteen years will be the next Governor of New York State. His majority over Henry L. Stimson was about 65,000. It will be remembered that Teddy, the great stumped the state for Stimson against Mr. Dix. Now the good news comes that Teddy is turned down in his own election district as well as all over this great United States. Mr. Stimson, it is said made the statement Tuesday night that he attributed his defeat to nation wide causes and a general movement of the Republican party toward progressivism.

OHIO.

Judson Harmon was reelected in Ohio and will be backed by a democratic legislature. He defeated the republican nominee, Warren G. Harding by about 50,000.

When Governor Harmon received assurance late Tuesday that he had been re-elected Governor he made the following statement:

"I am greatly gratified by the result of the election, which I take as an approval of my efforts for good government in Ohio." Further than this the re-elected Chief Executive of the state had nothing to say, but indicated that he was greatly pleased with the result, coming, as it does, as one of the greatest victories in the political world of the day.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Democrats elected for Governor of Massachusetts, Congressman Eugene N. Foss by a plurality of over 2,500 over Gov. Eben S. Draper, the Republican nominee.

Governor elect Eugene Foss gave out the following statement:

"This victory voices the protest of Massachusetts against the Payne-Aldrich act, the present high cost of living and the broken pledges of the Republican party. I deeply appreciate the honor and realize the responsibility which it brings. It is a vote of confidence on the part of the people of this Commonwealth. We must make good. I shall endeavor to do my part, and I ask the co-operation of every citizen."

Election In Garrard.

Our election in Garrard was one of the most quiet in years. Not over two-thirds of the total vote of the County was polled. Considering the interest taken, Congressman Harvey Helm made a good showing. The County usually going from two to three hundred and fifty republican except when a full County ticket is in the field. We give the vote by precincts:

|                  |              |

Mrs. Ed C. Gaines entertained the Embroidery Club Tuesday afternoon. The social function was an occasion to celebrate the tenth anniversary of her marriage. The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants and blooming flowers. All of the guests assembled were lavish with good wishes for the gracious hostess.

Mrs. L. N. Miller left Sunday, for Cincinnati, where she will buy a new and up-to-date line of Stamping patterns, flosses, etc. On her return she will be located at R. S. Brown Dry Goods Store, and will be pleased to show all of her friends and customers the latest and newest designs in embroidery and fancy work.

Trains Dispatched By Telephone.

The installation of telephone equipment on both dispatching and message circuits has just been completed on the Knoxville Division of the Louisville & Nashville at a cost of $36,000. This railroad is one of those which has lately been supplanting the telegraph for the work of handling train movements, substituting the telephone, which because of its greater accuracy, speed and safety has lately come into favor among railroad managers.

Fatal Accident.

While working at the laundry last Saturday Hanna Mayfield Faulkner, (col.) had her arm mangled in a roller which probably caused her death the following day at 11:00 p. m. She was considered one of the best and most reliable hands that Mrs. Arnold had at the laundry. It seems that she was cleaning the collar machine and the steam engine was running and while endeavoring to clean the rollers, her hand was caught in the rollers which took in her arm up to the body. Immediately after the accident she was taken to the hospital where she was given medical attention. The funeral took place in Lancaster Monday afternoon at 2 p. m.

AMUSEMENT FOR LANCASTER PEOPLE

Five Good Shows.

Everyone will be interested in the fact that Lancaster is to have five good shows at the Court House this winter so that our people may have the chance to enjoy themselves without going to the city. The shows will be under the management of Messrs. James Beasley and Joe S. Haselden who have put forth their best efforts to secure high class performers for each and every entertainment.

The first show of the season is the Peerless Princess Quartet and comes off Tuesday night Nov. 22nd. The last show, The Floids, comes off March 27th. These shows are of a higher class than the ones offered by Messrs. Beasley and Haselden last season and the people should appreciate the efforts to have some innocent amusements for our town. The tickets for each performance will be on sale at McRoberts Drug Store. Admission will be 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Sale of City Property.

We are authorized by G. B. Robinson, Executor of R. M. West deceased, to sell a parcel of land, on the East side of Stanford avenue, about 300 yards from Central Park, with a frontage of 480 feet, giving ample room for several building lots, or suitable for a coal yard or stock pens, as it also adjoins the L. & N. Railroad. If not sold privately before November 28, (court day) it will be sold to the highest bidder, on that day, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the court house door, without reserve by bid or limit, in order to settle the estate. This is a chance for a bargain. It will be offered in three separate lots of equal frontage, and then offered as a whole. The executor accepting the bid or bids bringing the most money.

Terms: Half cash, balance in 1 and 2 years, 6 per cent interest. Possession at once. Hughes & Swinebroad. Oct. 14 28 Nov. 11-25

To prove that our town is prospering and growing, we point to you the fact that it is necessary for the L. & N., to build to their Depot at this place. They are now at work on it and will extend it thirty feet and thereby make it one-fourth larger than it is at present. We will have a good depot and should appreciate the efforts of the L. & N., to give us good service in every way.

As we go to press we hear that the editors brother, Mr. W. E. Walker, has purchased the Grocery and Meat market which has been run by Mr. W. D. Walker and was formally owned by Gill & Simpson. Mr. Walker will kill his own meat and will always have a fresh supply of groceries and meat on hand. He is a son of the late Judge W. E. Walker and a brother of our Circuit Judge Lewis L. Walker.

Favorable Impression.

The special session of Circuit Court has been busily engaged this week in the trial of the contested will case of the late Claiborne Lisle. The testimony of the contestants was finished Wednesday and the other side is now busy in presenting testimony in support of the will. The trial will probably consume the remainder of the week and Judge Walker has been holding night session to facilitate the work. Judge Walker is prompt in decision, strict in preserving order and has made a very favorable impression. Winchester Democrat.

Henry-Sebastian.

On Wednesday evening Mr. James Robert Henry and Miss Scotta Mae Sebastian surprised their many friends when they motored to Danville and were united in wedlock holy bonds. Immediately after the ceremony they returned to the bride home where an elegant dinner was served. The bride wore a beautiful brown suit with hat and gloves to match. She is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sebastian and is a pretty blonde of only seventeen summers, and is very popular, while the groom is the son of Mr. James Henry, of Kirksville, and a hustling young man of good habits. They will reside in Kirksville, where the groom is associated with his father in the mercantile business. The Record joins their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

ANNOUNCEMENTS For Circuit Judge

We are authorized to announce Hon. Charles A. Harbin a candidate for Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District, at the November election, 1911, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Victory.

The overwhelming victory of the Democratic Party in last Tuesday's election was more decisive than was contemplated by the most enthusiastic democrats. In the Northern and New England states the victory was sweeping one, while the Republican Western states generally remained loyal to that party. Why this humiliating defeat of a party so successful for fourteen years? Why such a change of sentiment?

The reasons we think are easily discerned, so plain that "the who runs may read." In the first place the entire country desires a reversion of the tariff "downward." The Republican party had promised in the last presidential election both by platform and the interpretation of the same that we should have this relief, and after being successful at the polls with Senators Aldridge and Lodge controlling the Republican senate and Cannon and Canning in control of a Republican House and being aided and abetted by President Taft, deliberately broke faith with the people, and violated this pledge. Again the voters in these states have been convinced that the Republican party of the East is in league with the great Trust and the Moneyed Oligarchy of the country and that they are controlling legislation at Washington, through the Republican party. We think that the wide, vicious, and unjust attack of ex-President Roosevelt, upon so many of the Democratic leaders disgusted many of the voters who otherwise might have voted the Republican ticket. The Western Republican generally seemed to have voted with their party. Republican insurgency has been popular in the west. These insurgents had most universally been successful in securing nominations. Insurgency is a protest against Aldridge and Cannonism and in effect an acceptance of Democracy as set out in the last three national Democratic platforms. So there was really no issue between the voters except when local issues are being considered. We think the result a cheering victory for democracy. How will we improve upon the advantage gained? Is the question now.

What Will The Harvest Be?

The Democratic victory in last Tuesday's election while more sweeping in the Northern and Eastern States, is noticeable in the returns from nearly every section of the country. What will the party make of the success of this election? Great things may be accomplished for the benefit of the people and the future of the party. In the first place it is to be greatly hoped that in Champ Clark, of Missouri, who has already announced for speaker of the House, or some other great democrat in whom the people have confidence, the Lower House will find a leader and that the policies of the platform adopted by the last National Democratic convention will guide them in legislative matters. In other words the party must have definite policies, and such must be in harmony with those for which the party has been fighting.

Again let no democrat think more of success at the polls than the tenets of the party. Let us at all times keep faith with the people, or we will soon meet the fate of enemy on Nov. 8th. The Democratic party must continue to be a progressive party. We must stand square for Jeffersonian principles at all times. A repudiation of the national platform of 1908 would mean backward steps and a forfeiture of the people's confidence. Some of their wise ones who foresaw that the people were losing faith in the republican party and were about to adopt democracy, attempted to save the day by tackling enough of the democratic principles to hold them on, but the voters would not let it decide rather to cast their lot with the party which had been fighting the people's battle so long. Let us not sacrifice one "pot or title" of democratic principle for the reward of office. Then the harvest will be a success in 1912 as well as a victory that will result in a successful administration.

Why He Advertises.

A member of one of Lancaster's most successful business houses explains why they advertise and why they prefer the newspapers for that purpose as follows:

"We advertise in the newspapers because we are not ashamed of our goods or our work and to let the people know about our firm, our store and our stock, because we cater to the intelligent class, and they read the newspapers, and we believe in increasing our business, because we can talk to more people through the newspaper at a greater distance in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way; because our newspaper advertising brings us greater returns for the least expenditure than any other kind of advertising that we have done; because when we write an "ad" we are not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible medium or have it inserted so it is attractive; because we know it is seen and read by every member of the family to which the paper goes."

What Next Mr. Roosevelt?

It will likely take another bear hunt in Africa or some other far away hunting ground for the ex-president, Teddy the terrible, to get his nerves settled. Tuesday's election was certainly a rebuke to the Big Stick. His New Nationalism didn't take any where. His abuse of Judge Baldwin in Connecticut elected him in all probability. His attack on Governor Judson Harmon in Ohio is said to have added to his majority at least twenty five thousand. His work in Massachusetts elected Eugene Foss the democratic governor while Democratic Candidate Dix's majority of 6000 in N.Y. is a monument to the memory of his success at the republican convention at Saratoga. Will he be a candidate against Taft in 1912? How long will it take him to rebuild the Republican Temple.

An Outrage.

The futility of the effort to enforce prohibition by the States so long as the Federal government sells liquor licenses in territory in which the local laws forbid the sale of intoxicants was never better demonstrated than in Memphis, which is a dry town in a dry State says the Lexington Herald. The United States Collector's report shows that for the month of October the sale of liquor here exceeded that of the same month last year by $53,657. This is a burning shame. Congress should resurrect and pass the bill to prohibit the granting of licenses in prohibition territory. It is against all principle of home rule and should not be tolerated.

Editor Geo. Boner of the Nicholasville Tribune is a hot tip for Post Master at Nicholasville. He has a strong endorsement and a good chance to win out. Being a former Garrard County boy, he has many friends here who hope that he will be appointed as long as a republican has to have the job. Mr. Boner is influential in republican politics being editor of a republican paper and always fighting for the cause.

Many a child has gone to the bad because its parents in mistaken tenderness and to avoid temporary unpleasantness have let their children have their own way in every thing instead of imposing upon them the restraint of a wise and loving parental authority.

The nation that gets intoxicated with wealth and has no ambition above commercialism is doomed to ultimately lose its strength and die out. As with individual so with nations it is character and not dollars that gives permanence and true power.

Some of our business men who set up a terrible howl about people sending orders to department stores, have all their stationery and bills printed away from home. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

The character of the man you honor is sufficient to show your own character therefore stick to a man who has courage and honor and thereby raise your own character to a higher standing.

It is quite the fashion for some people to lay the blame for their misfortunes upon providence instead of placing it upon themselves.

My goodness, but didn't Harvey Helm sail by easy.

The Peerters Princess never fail to entertain.

Knights Of Pythias.

The Paint Lick lodge of the Knights of Pythias has been transferred to Garrard Lodge No. 29. This means that the Lancaster Lodge will be strengthened by twenty new Paint Lick members.

Prepare In Advance.

Here is the way an exchange duns its subscribers: "If you have frequent fainting spells, accompanied by chills, cramps, corns, bunions, chilblains, epilepsy and jaundice, it is a sign you are not well, but liable to die any minute. Pay your subscription in advance and thus make yourself solid for a good obituary notice."

Box Supper.

There will be a box supper at Sunnyside School house on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16, 1910 for the benefit of Kentucky children's Home Society. Every body cordially invited and every girl requested to bring a box, and every boy come prepared to buy one. This money is to help carry the homeless little ones through the winter.

Good Service From L. & N.

It was currently reported that the L. & N. Rail Road Co. would discontinue the operation of the morning and afternoon passenger trains being known as Number 27 & 28 running from Louisville to Richmond and returned.

The enterprising citizens of the community got busy immediately and had a meeting at the National Bank of Lancaster and at the meeting selected Messrs R. H. Batson, J. E. Robinson and J. M. Farra, of Lancaster and W. G. Kemper of Paint Lick to go to Louisville and protest to the Management of the road against the change.

A petition to the rail road company signed by 250 citizens of the town was handed the committee to present to the rail road officials asking that train service remain as it is at present. After hearing the committee the Management of the road gave assurance that there would now be no change since the efforts of the company to accommodate the public is appreciated. We have the best train services Lancaster has ever had and those enterprising citizens are entitled to the praise of the community for their successful effort.

Bribery Cases.

At the close of the trial, in Springfield, Ill., on the 29th, of State Senator Pemberton and Representative Clark, the jury disagreed, standing eight for conviction and four for acquittal. The defendants had been prosecuted for taking bribes in connection with a contract for furniture in the Capitol, and the evidence came to light during the investigation concerning bribery affecting the election of Senator Lorimer. They will be tried again.—A grand jury at Chicago has obtained evidence relating to the bribing of a juror, Grant McCutcheon, who served at the second trial of Lee O'Neil Brown, indicted for bribing members of the Legislature to vote for Lorimer. McCutcheon testified that $100 was paid to him in the office of Brown's counsel. An unsuccessful attempt to keep McCutcheon out of the grand jury room was made by means of a writ of habeas corpus.—James A. Hamilton, chief of the fire department in Lawrence, Mass., has been convicted of bribing an alderman by the payment of $100, to vote for his appointment to the office which he holds, and has been sentenced to be imprisoned for two and one half years. The Mayor of Lawrence, Mr. White, is now serving a term in jail for attempted bribery. The man who offers the bribe is the one to go after, then this kind of work can be stopped for where there is no one to offer the bribe, there certainly can't be any one to accept.

Plan To Spend Ten Thousand Dollars.

What "Ten Thousand Dollars from Red Cross Seals" will do in the checking of consumption in Kentucky is explained in a bulletin issued today by the Kentucky Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Counting every available bed for consumptives in Kentucky, there are at the present time accommodations for hardly 125 tuberculosis patients. This is just about one bed for every 100 consumptives in the State. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment, fully 10,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis would be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the Kentucky Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or state. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals, for tuberculosis, action is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed.

These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross Seals.

The State Association cites one illustration of the way in which a small sum spent in education has secured large appropriations. The New York State Charities Aid Association in the three years, 1908, 1909 and 1910 has spent in the up-state portion of New York about $55,000 in arousing the people to the dangers of tuberculosis. As a direct result of the public sentiment produced by this outlay, the state county and municipal authorities have already appropriated for tuberculosis work $1,500,000 and appropriations for hundreds of thousands of dollars are pending. Hundreds of hospital beds have been provided, and the Association already aims for "No Uncared for Tuberculosis in 1915."

Thus the State Association says if Ten Thousand Dollars is realized from the sale of Red Cross Seal, thousands more will be added to it from the public treasuries. Last year 87, 807 stamps were sold outside of Louisville. It is aimed this year to sell a million of the "Seals" for the State Campaign.

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs will have charge of the sale of the "Seals" in all cities where they have Clubs. Address all communications to the Secretary, Eugene Kerne, at Headquarters, 215 E. Walnut Street, Louisville.

Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c, at R. E. McRoberts & Son.

Greater Beauty of Tone develops with use in the Ellington Piano

WHILE quite the contrary is true of most pianos. We are all familiar with the piano that develops a metallic tone after a few years' use.

You don't want that kind. You want one that your children and grandchildren will enjoy, as well as give you pleasure for a lifetime. The children can't practice away its marvelous beauty of tone because it is the permanent result of careful planning and construction. Not the transient satisfaction of some tone regulator's doctored.

When you own an Ellington Piano, you can be sure that even greater beauty of tone will be revealed with use, than that which first appealed to you.

St., Stanford, Ky., says: "Some years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results. In 1900, I met with an accident which brought on a recurrence of kidney complaint. I recovered sufficiently, so that I could work, but my back remained very weak.

When doing anything that required stooping, my back became very lame and painful. Remembering what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for me previously, I procured a box and they gave me great relief. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement."

The KITCHEN CABINET

WHO eats the fruit should at least plant the seed;
aye, if possible, a better fruit than that which he has enjoyed. O, thou spendthrift! Defray thy debt to the world."

"Common Growths of Mother Earth."
The liking for vegetables is usually a matter of training in childhood, and it seems a pity that so many children at a time when tastes are formed, are deprived of the enjoyment and real benefit which a varied vegetable diet gives, because the parent lacks appreciation of the value of vegetables as food.

There is no excuse for monotony in the way they are served, for with thought, a different arrangement and preparation may give variety each day in the month.

Vegetables contain salts and mineral matter, valuable in the blood, besides other food principles, and water in abundance.

The cellulose or woody fiber in vegetables, give the necessary bulk to our food. We need, as Kipling says:
"Bulk in our insides."

Spinach has been called the broom of the system. It contains iron and other minerals, making it a valuable vegetable for spring use.

Asparagus is a food and a medicine as is celery and rhubarb.

Dandelion is a green vegetable salad plant, valuable for a spring green. It may be cooked like spin-ach, served with hard cooked eggs, or fresh with French dressing. If bleached by laying boards over the dandelion plants early in the spring they are especially tender and nice to serve.

Cress may be obtained very early from the brooks, and is another salad plant good to eat alone, or in combination with dandelion, lettuce, or with onions and radishes it makes a most attractive salad. The radishes and onions are sliced very thin, and heaped on the bed of cress. French dressing may be served with this salad.

Hints.
Cheese is a food that needs to be cooked at a low temperature. Too much or too prolonged heat renders it tough and leathery.

The smoothness of a rarebit depends upon the straining, which must be continuous.

Nellie Maxwell
Proud of it.

The Master—How's this, Thomas? I hear my dog's been fighting again.

Thomas (the gardener)—Yes, sir, and don't he improve!—Punch.

Can't Convince Him.
"Paw, what is a 'safe blower'?"
"The man who brags about the size of the fish he hooked but didn't land."

Divorce Trials.

In Vienna nearly all divorce cases are open to the public, and the decision in every case is given out in open court. Publication of divorce cases in St. Petersburg is penal offense. Paris allows no publication, fines publishers $20 to $500. All Brussels cases are heard in private. In Switzerland the court says whether or not there shall be publication. ## LIFT UP YOUR EYES AND LOOK

By BISHOP WILLIAM A. QUAYLE
Montreal, Canada.

Text: In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Jesus Christ concerning you.—Thess. 5:18. Have we not set the song of the Christian life to much to the tune of difficulty, danger and sorrow? "In everything give thanks," I am pretty certain, will, in the multitude of instances, be translated as meaning that whatever difficulty or distress enters your life, be of grateful mood. Do not murmur. Be glad through whatever roughness the water wears as we voyage across their uncertain billows.

I am certain of two things in this matter. First, that this is how this Scripture is pretty generally viewed, and second, this is not what it does actually mean. It does mean that, but it means infinitely more. A farm is on a landscape; and he who confounds farm and landscape is not seeing things as they are. Difficulties are to be encountered and sorrows are to be met and they are to be met with the mood of manly and womanly resignation to the wide-working will of God. But that we are to be grateful for the clouds rather than the sunrise and the noon and the blessed open sky is to me absurd and a lifeless interpretation of the good. Our Heavenly Father. To be glad on a holiday is as devout as to be sad on a funeral day. We shall not need to reset our estimates of God and his will concerning us before we are in harmony with his mood. He is the glad God of out-of-doors and the happy singing things whether they be birds or children or women or strong men. This anemic notion of religion is unwholesome because it is untrue. God gives no assent.

A good man and great said this: "In everything give thanks." Nobody but a good and great man could have said it. The sentiment is like Mount Lycabettus from whose top all of history Greece lies under the eyes without straining an eyeball. All life lies at the base of a mount of vision and of praise like this: "In everything give thanks." The fact which is meant to be lifted into light at this moment is that there is a devotional element in all things whatsoever. We say grace before meals, except we be heathen. We often say grace before labors and battles without or within and reading of books and taking of journeys and husking corn or going to picnics or a stroll through sun-burnt fields for the sheer love of the crisp grass under foot and the hot sky overhead.

We do narrow beyond the permission of God this thought of devotion or we must be at church or prayer meeting or at family prayer to be devotional. Those places and occupations are greatly good, but they do not monopolize the moods of devotion. The devotional frame is the deep consideration. Are we open to devotion for all things as Paul was? It is meet to give thanks for the bird voices, and a good way to give such thanks is by listening to the voices. That is worth weighing. To love things enough to give things heed is a mood of gratitude, whereas not to care enough for things to notice them is a first-class specimen of ingratitude toward God and his doings. The cricket's chirp is a species of poetry which may well set the heart singing after its fashion, too. Such a little warmth makes the cricket set his heart to song. Were we as good at the voicing of our gratitude as the cricket of the hearth, what a shout of choralizing would the great God hear from men.

The religious nature is wiser and wider than many religious folk are given to supposing. Christianity is generosity. "Thank God!" How often have I found my own given to that gust of gratitude—"thank God!" And I am not slow to believe God hears such prayer and smiles with gladness to hear it. Why should we not give thanks for the finding of a wild flower or the striking gracefulness of a child at play, or the toss of apple branches lit with bloom, or the blue jay's note with its musical un-musicality.

No, secularities are just theme for praise and prayer. We have no call to ask for things for which we have not call to answer to God in spontaneous words of thanks. "I thank you" is a phrase which the debonaire use frequently. Courtesy is a good habit for a body's own sake. To be genteel is a soul-instinct of fineness, and if a man or a woman lived alone and broke himself with himself, (at least such a way of living is not necessary or to be desired. If one is alone and has no relatives, then should such a one borrow some child, or, better, some homeless body, some body human, not feline nor canine, to keep alive the humaneness in one's own soul), he would do well to say: "I thank you" when he passes food to himself, for so would the method of good manners be kept alive and the social impulse would be hearkened to. "Father, I thank thee," says the Christ; and "in everything give thanks," says his brainiest follower. And for one I will take this advice and will find provision for devotion in everything, books, folks, church, labor, song, tears and cares. And for the least and largest to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, will make my adoration for the Christ, my Saviour and my King.

Too Busy Thinking.
"Is it true that he is very absent-minded?"
"I should say it is! A street car window fell on his arm last year and he has not yet brought suit for damages."

The Belle.
"Popular?" I saw four men holding her hand on the beach yesterday.
"I call that disgraceful!"
"Be charitable. Seems she had gotten her head stuck by a sea nettle or something."

THE AMATEUR GARDENER.

I've planted the peas in the rose bed, I've set out some slips in the sun; I'm wondering now with a care-furrowed brow What the job will be like when it's done. The names that are written in Latin I've studied with scrupulous care; I've mixed up the seeds of all kinds of breeds And scattered 'em everywhere!

The scheme will work out, beyond question, In a highly original way: The humble stringbean side by side will be seen With the pink and the poppy so gay. But I tremble to think of the flash, As over the garden I gaze. Will they call me to eat the potatoes so sweet While tomato plants stand in a vase?

Mud Flats.

"Yes," said the Chicago man who had been down the Mississippi, "you have some fine swimming holes around St. Louis."

"Then you took a dip?" spoke up the St. Louis man. "And what did you do after enjoying a good swim in the broad Mississippi?"
"I went home and took a bath."

A ROYAL WEDDING.

Mr. Wasp—I saw Willie Bumble Bee last night and he had a royal skate on. Mrs. Wasp—No wonder, his sister was married to Mr. King Bee yesterday.

Too Much Kneeling.

Along the beach the chaplains stand With fancy canes and towers, Some bag a handsome heiress and Some merely bag their trousers.

Playing Safe.

There was a youth in our town—his name my memory slips—who feared he'd kissed some microbes from off his sweetheart's lips. When he found what he had done, with all his might and main he rushed back the following night and kissed 'em on again.

Poor Mr. Staylate.

"I must have been born to be a great commander," boasted the egotistical youth. "Everything I say goes." "Oh, if you were only like what you say," yawned the pretty girl, as midnight pealed forth from some neighboring belfry.

Grasping a New Idea.

"I suppose they threw rice at the newly wedded couple," observed the girl with the obtrusive nose. "Threw it?" responded the other girl; "they shot it from guns!"

Possible Explanation.

Mrs. Chatterton—I wonder why man was created before woman? Chatterton—So the woman would have somebody to talk to as soon as she got in the game, I imagine.

AWFUL RUSH THERE.

Miss Newstyle—I'll admit that basketball is a very rough game. Miss Oldstyle—Then why do you girls play it? Miss Newstyle—It fits a girl for society functions when she has to fight her way to the refreshment table.

While Ma Does It.

All summer she has kept her sleeves rolled up—her arms are brown; But home again, with work to do, She promptly rolls them down.

Could Afford It.

"How rich is he?" "Immensely wealthy. He's had every operation the doctors could think of."

Enough Said.

"Is he devoted to his wife?" "He goes shopping with her, when he might be at the ball park."

Shutting the Subject.

"Thanks for do biscuit, mum," remarked Dusty Rhodes, "but you mistake me around in the community." "What d'ye mean?" "I'm studying social conditions, not geology."

A Retard For An Oliver.

"I hate to see my landlord come around. He acts like a perfect shark." "Well, you're equal to him, aren't you?" "How do you mean?" "Don't you meet him with a veil?"

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Retentive soils should be drained.

Send to market all old hens right now.

A poor milker, man or maid, is an abomination in a dairy.

The shorter the fattening period the greater the profit from the pen.

If there are any bare places on the lawn now they should be reseeded or resodded.

The disk is a better implement than the plow for breaking up sod in the orchard.

There is a distinct difference between weeds and corn. There should also be an extinct difference.

An orchard will live longer, bear better and be more profitable for being well cultivated and enriched.

Perhaps the first important factor to consider in dairying is the stable wherein the cattle are to be housed.

Strawberries should be cultivated, the weeds eradicated and the moisture conserved for late summer drought.

When the incubator is to be started for late hatches set things in order and run it two days before trusting the eggs to it.

The scientific, thoughtful farmer works with his head. He knows every cow, her yield, her condition and her profit producing capacity.

Allow the calf to run with the mother for a day or so immediately after birth. The new milk is necessary to promote a proper digestion.

Aside from the commercial value of the products from the poultry yard the value of fresh eggs and fine poultry for the table should not be underestimated.

No sane and active poultry keeper will tolerate lice in the nest. Place water, feed and dust bath where the hen can easily get at them when she daily leaves the nest.

Unless you secure the guinea eggs and have the young ones hatched under the hens, along with the chicks, they are almost certain to become wild and unmanageable.

Beware of "red rust" in blackberry or blackcap bushes. When seen, promptly dig up and burn infected plant, being careful not to scatter the fungous dust over healthy bushes.

Those who have large apple orchards are fortunate if they have evaporators for drying windfall apples. This is a good way to utilize unsalable fruit and thus add to the profits of the orchard.

Keep your eyes open for better hens. You will often see some advertised for sale. But steer clear of old worn-out stock. None over one or at the outside two years old should be bought or kept on the farm.

For grape-rot and mildew, begin early and spray the vines with Bordeaux mixture at intervals of about two weeks. Newly-set grape vines should be allowed to grow only one main shoot which should be tied up.

When we understand that it requires twenty tons of moisture to produce a bushel of corn we will study to make its evaporation as slow as possible, as crops suffer more from lack of moisture than from any other single thing.

It is quite a temptation sometimes to have a dealer offer you a big price for the best sheep and lambs. If you need them in your own herd, however, you cannot afford to take any price offered. Keep the best and make that best better another year.

Cottonseed meal fed to excess will injure the flavor of butter just as linseed meal in excess will injure the grain and flavor. While both of these can be fed to an advantage to dairy cows the best results are possible only when they are used in connection with other materials.

Do not neglect to examine the currant and gooseberry-bushes and look for the white eggs of the currant-worm, and the larva of the currant-sawfly. If you find any, dust the leaves, top and under sides, with finely powdered hellebore, when the foliage is wet, or put a heaping tablespoonful in a gallon of water, and apply.

The three-year-old saddle stallion Cook's Denmark has been sold by J. O. Dunlap, of Tennessee, for $1,500. He is one of the last of the get of Highland Denmark and out of the mare Muzette, one of the daughters of Eric Chief by Harrison Chief. The colt will be used for breeding purposes.

The fine farm of the late Charles Alexander, one mile from Versailles, on the Frankfort turnpike, containing 255 acres, was sold at public auction to E. H. Vansant, a millionaire lumberman, of Ashland, formerly of Michigan, at $175 an acre, or a total of $44,625.

At the public sale of Jerseys of W. R. Spann, at Shelbyville, Ky., last Thursday, 68 head brought $21,165; total average $311.48 head imported cattle brought an average of $368.50. The highest price was brought by Noble Peer, which sold for $3,000.

Salt which has a lot of impurity in it is on the market. It is cheap; but it costs too much for any of us to use. Only the best is the watchword for the dairyman who makes the best butter.

At a public sale of stock, etc., made by Messrs. Dunn, at Bryantsville, Ky., October 31st, brood sows of 200 lb. weight brought $40 each. Hogs are scarce in that section.

You can wash a lot of good flavor out of your butter if you are not careful. Stop at the right point. Enough is better than a feast in this respect.

Jas. H. Gillespie, of Mt. Sterling purchased from Chas. Scott, of Fleming county, a yearling colt by Bourbon Chief for $700.

Mr. E. H. Wise, of Shelbyville, Ky., recently sold to Mr. Price, at Atlanta, Ga., one pair of four-year-old mare mules for $525.

The directors of the Henry County, Tenn., Fair Association declared a dividend of 10 per cent, leaving a neat sum in the treasury.

The tomato pack of the country this year is estimated to be 3,000,000 cases below that of last year.

Early maturity is just as advantageous to the producer of sheep as to any other stockman in the world.

Mr. E. S. Schuman bought twenty mules in Lancaster last Saturday average price $130.

Bright & Fox of Danville bought four mules at Richmond Court-day average price $190.

If you fill your churn more than half full, you will have a slow, hard job of churning.

Mr. J. P. Bourne bought seven mules in Richmond Monday. Average price $163.

There are over 170,000,000 acre-sure wheat cultivation in the world.

Mr. W. B. Burton bought three horses at Richmond court, average $150.

Without Resort to Law

By Donald Allen

(Copyright, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.)

"Come and put in your vacation with me. House in the country. Lake. Fish. Golf. Mighty good-looking girl only eighty rods away. Cupid. Moonlight, etc."

So ex-Judge Gorman wrote to his nephew, Phil Walker, just before college vacation. The judge was a bachelor sixty years old, who had bought a mansion house on retiring from the bench. He was alone except for his servants, and Phil was his favorite nephew.

Judge Gorman had caught only a brief glimpse of Allen Travers as she crossed the lawn of her mother's grounds next door. Any lawyer could have made a case of false pretenses out of that letter, but Phil Walker replied that he would be happy to come. Miss Allen Travers was just two weeks ahead of him on vacation. She had got home and settled down for the summer before he was due.

When at home she was the man about the house. She could handle saw or hammer, and when the lawnmower got out of kilter she had a way of fixing it up instead of sending it off to town to be tinkered at. She reached home on this occasion to find that many things needed her attention, and among them was the glazing of a pane of glass in the kitchen window. This was left to the last, but on the day her mother and little sister went away to be gone 'till night the cook was informed:

"Now, then, if James got that pane of glass and some putty, we will fix that window. We shall need the step-ladder."

It's the easiest thing in the world for a smart and good-looking girl to putty in a pane of glass. She first takes out any fragments of the old pane. Then she mounts to the top of a stepladder and has the cook hold

"It's the Easiest Thing in the World."

It while she cuts away the old putty. Then the new pane is set in and made fast. Miss Allen set out to accomplish this task.

Mid-afternoon came along while she was still working. So did Phil Walker. He was walking out from town for exercise. He didn't know what he had lost. He decided that the sensible thing to do was to make inquiries. He rang the bell at the Travis' mansion, and as he rang he wondered if that "mighty good-looking girl" lived there.

No answer. He thought he heard voices at the rear of the house. The sensible thing to do was to go around and find the owners. He found them. Miss Allen was standing on the crest of the stepladder, sleeves rolled up, old skirt on, and bareheaded and her hair tousled and flying about.

That's the way a glazier glazes. The cook was hanging to the stepladder like grim death and throwing out a suggestion now and then, and the stage setting was ready when the young college man appeared. There was a yell from the cook! There was an exclamation from the mistress. There was a roar from the family dog, who has been held back until this moment to complete a dramatic situation!

The cook let go. The stepladder wobbled. Miss Allen came down. Mr. Walker stepped backward, and it seemed to the dog as if the three people were all mixed up for a moment. Then he took after the one who fled, nipped him and chased him off the grounds and down the road, where ex-Judge Gorman, standing at his gate, threw up his arms and called out:

"What villain has dared to set a dog on my favorite nephew! Tell me his name that I may give him seven kinds of law!"

Phil thought he understood the case, and when he got his breath he tried to explain. It was a case of natural cause and effect. Let any young man discover a girl putting in a pane of glass from the top of a stepladder, with the family cook braced to prevent a wobble, and the family dog dozing in the sunshine, and exclamations, falls and bites must follow. It's like the stock market when a report is circulated that John Doe is dead—it creates a flurry. He held no one to blame.

"Say, boy," replied the uncle when the story had been told, "that girl on the stepladder must have been the

All Dodge Soup.

Soup is probably the most unpopular dish in the luncheon menu of the New York business girl today. She acknowledges that it may be nourishing and all that, but it simply doesn't taste good to her. The only time, so a downtown business girl says, that the girls she knows resort to soup is when their finances are at a very low ebb.

"What would astonish you, though," says this same girl, "is the number of mothers that think that their daughters should eat soup every day, and try to persuade them to do it. They say soup is so sustaining. Well, perhaps it is. I can't argue as to that. But I know soup doesn't taste especially good, and doesn't make any too good a foundation for an afternoon's work. It would be different if we could have soup, then a meat dish, and then a dessert; but very few girls, I tell you, can afford that."

"So we all cut out soup. Probably it disgusts the dietician young women just out of college, but we all feel we know what's best for us."—New York Press.
